Dear Miriam,

I guess you thought I was not going to give your annual back to you. Well, you will have to forgive me for you know how I'm about putting things off.

Enough of that. Just like to write a few lines telling you all those sweet little things I've been saying for two years now. First, I consider myself very lucky having a wonderful girl like you for a future wife. Even though you are a little grumpy sometimes, you are still the greatest.

I agree we have had our ups and downs but I hope we have settled them at last. Maybe what we both needed was a little more growing up.

I want to thank you for thinking about me and helping me decide on what to do in the future. You have been more help to me than you can ever guess.

Miriam, you have made great progress here at Berry. I think and I know you will be a great success in whatever you do. I hope you will want me to help you become a success.

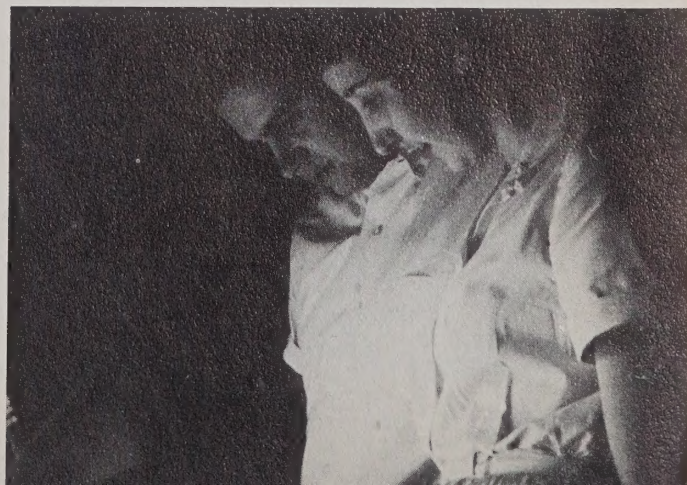

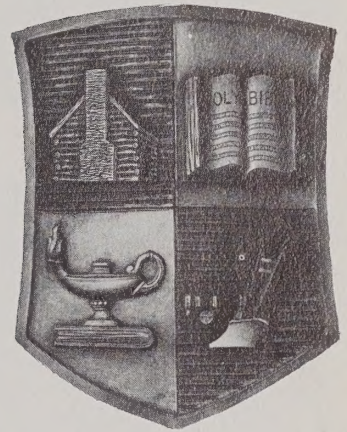

I will also be glad when Christmas comes. It surely seems long enough off but I'm sure we can wait that long. I know our marriage will be one which will as the years go by;

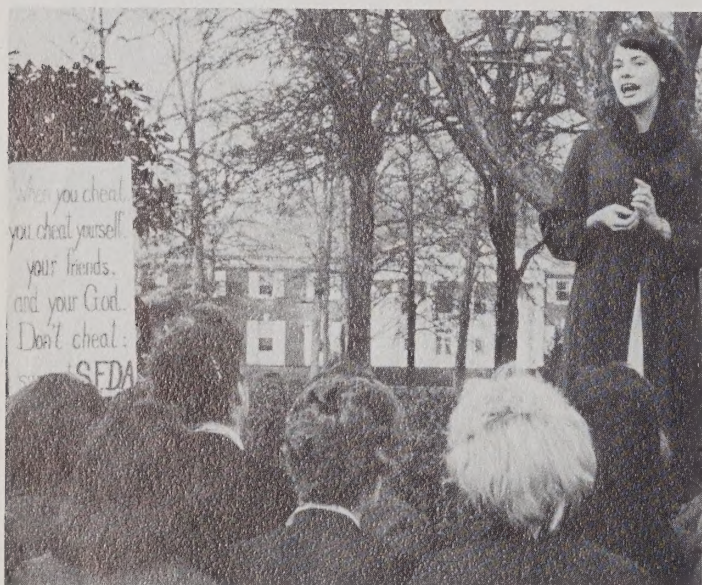

Just about out of space and thus will bring this to a halt. I think I need not say much more for if you don't know how I feel about you now, you never will. I Love you,
Anyway, what are words if you don't mean them. Ronnie

FOREWORD

As we, the class of 1962, finish our college requirements and prepare to venture forth into our chosen professions, we recall the past four years as years of academic progress and social changes. We have seen the building of a quarter system for Berry, due to begin next year, and feel that maybe we have had a part in that important change.

We have watched Berry's academic program progress to a top spot in the small college class. We have been the fortunate listeners to many of the nation's most recognized speakers. Just this year we heard Barry Goldwater and Doctor Norman Vincent Peale. Our fine arts programs also have developed to a point where Berry students now see superb performances of plays such as "Doctor Faustus" and "Richard III" regularly. Berry's own Drama Department produces superior programs and provides excellent training plus experience for English majors.

Social changes have done a great deal to make Berry an even better place to live. Remember the opening of the Student Center? We can remember when cars were not allowed to students and girls had fewer passes. Yes, we have seen class and dress uniform changes too! Now new regulations allow married and off-campus students to attend classes at Berry. Progress, progress!

Berry's work program now includes approved off-campus jobs, giving our students even more valuable practical experience, and increasing work opportunities to help pay expenses. Berry, as always, has planned ahead.

In this yearbook we have tried to picture some of the events that have affected all of us during the year. It is our sincere wish that it will serve as a reminder to us of the fine school that we attend—Berry.

EUGENE WADE

Freshman 1960-61
(1942-1961)

The tragic accident that took Eugene Wade's life this past summer was a great loss to his family, friends, and all of the students at Berry College.

We all remember Gene as one of Berry's top young men while he was here during his freshman year. He was a leader in his class, and his friendly "Hi" was obviously a reason why. We also recall Gene's fine sportsmanship and the many other qualities that gave proof of his Christian character.

Martha Berry

FOUNDER, THE BERRY SCHOOLS

October 7, 1866 — February 27, 1942

More than 16,000 students have now entered the Gate of Opportunity seeking higher education. Through Miss Berry's undaunted determination to provide educational opportunities for those who ask, we, as a part of those 16,000 are given the opportunity that we seek. Truly Martha Berry deserved the honor which she received in 1931 of being named one of the 12 greatest American women.

Since the death of Miss Berry in 1942 many changes have taken place because transitions are necessary to keep pace with our rapidly progressing world. Though she is no longer with us, the seeds she left continue to grow and produce in fertile soil.

President's Message

In this period of vast and momentous achievements during which, for example, man has penetrated space, the everyday tasks of individuals might seem to have lost some of their significance.

Contrary to such an assumption, however, is the fact that individuals will continue to play vital roles in meeting the challenges of your generation and the generations to come.

Without individual thought and effort, even the greatest of accomplishments could not have been. Without the inspired vision of educated minds, dreams can only die, unfulfilled. Your college education can help you transform dreams into reality. In the years ahead, may you use your education generously and wisely, accepting with it the responsibilities that privilege entrusts to you.

Berry College has grown in character and stature because of your presence here. Her reputation will continue to grow as you establish for yourselves beyond her gates high standards of moral integrity, hard work and high-minded thinking.

May the knowledge of your minds be increased with wisdom and understanding, and may God guide you beyond the thresholds of destiny.

DR. JOHN R. BERTRAND
President

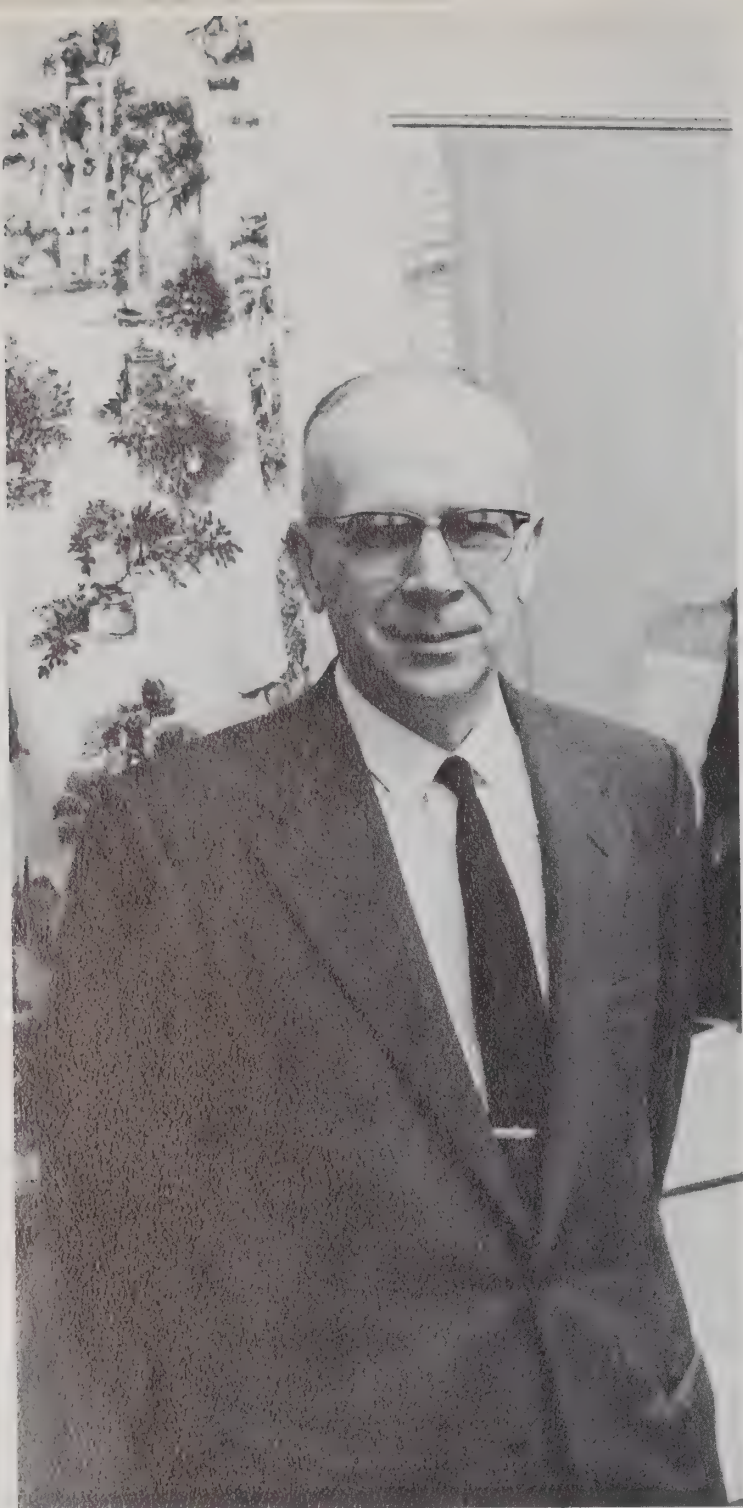

Wilbur D. Keister, Ed.D. DEAN OF STUDENTS

Probably one of the busiest men on campus is Dr. Wilbur D. Keister, Berry's Dean of Students. However, no matter how busy he is, he seems to always have time to see everyone.

Dr. Keister received his B.S. from Miami University in 1948. He attended New Mexico Highlands for his M.A. Dr. Keister received his Ed.D. from the University of Arizona in 1959 after coming to Berry in 1957.

Dr. Keister was in the U. S. Navy during World War II and participated in the initial landing at Normandy on V-Day. He was also in the Korean conflict.

Popular and respected are the words describing Dr. Keister. Berry has profited greatly in having such an active man as Dean of Students.

John R. Timmerman, Ph.D. ACADEMIC DEAN

A most vigorous man in seeing that Berry's academic record remains high in the small college class is our Academic Dean, Dr. Timmerman.

Dean Timmerman received his A.B. from Furman University in 1931 where he graduated summa cum laude. He received his M.A. from Duke University and also married in 1938. Dr. Timmerman was drafted in 1943 after teaching at Averett Junior College and N. C. State. In 1946 he returned to teaching at Furman University and taught there until going to the University of Texas where he received his Ph.D. Dr. Timmerman then went to Louisiana College as head of the English Department in 1952. In 1956 he became Academic Dean there and remained until coming to Berry on June 1, 1960.

Dr. Timmerman's record speaks well of his academic ability and we feel fortunate in having him during our transition period into the quarter system next year.

E. B. Hatcher, B.S.

DEAN OF MEN

Mr. E. B. Hatcher is Berry's newest Dean, but he has, in effect, become an "old hand" as the Dean of Men. A good example of his ability is that he has somehow managed to subdue the noise in T.B. Hall, an almost insurmountable task. Dean Hatcher is to be congratulated on a task well done in his first year at Berry.

Mr. Hatcher attended Middle Tennessee State College and received his B.S. in math from George Peabody College for Teachers. Mr. Hatcher has continued to attend Peabody while doing his graduate work.

Before coming to Berry last summer, Mr. Hatcher held two other positions. He was Elementary School Principal in Davidson County, Tennessee for ten years. He later became Commandant of Cadets at Columbia Military Academy in Columbia, Tennessee, remaining there for eighteen years.

Betty Barbour, M.A.

DEAN OF WOMEN

Probably one of the best known and most widely respected women at Berry College is our Dean of Women, Miss Betty Barbour.

Miss Barbour received her A.B. from the University of Georgia after attending Northwestern University and Western Michigan College. English and psychology were her majors. She then went to Florida State University to receive her M.A.

In 1939 Miss Barbour first came to Berry as an instructor in English at the Girls' High School then existing here. From 1942 until 1946 she served in the Berry College English Department. Miss Barbour then taught at Catawba College from 1947 until 1952. Since 1952 we have been fortunate in having Miss Barbour as our Dean of Women.

The girls that have graduated from Berry College are the finest proof of Miss Barbour's ability. Her leadership and "friendly persuasion" has been and remains a major guiding force at Berry.

Miss Berry College

The beautiful lady reigning as the queen of our campus for 1961-62 is a senior from Hixon, Tennessee, Miss Wanda Hixon. Wanda is majoring in biology and was sponsored by the Science Club. Combining witty talent in an interesting monologue entitled "The Church Rummage Sale" with her Sophia Loren beauty she captured the coveted title of Miss Berry College.

Cabin Log Staff

We, the 1962 Cabin Log Staff, hope that we have provided you with a yearbook that you will find interesting and representative of life on our campus. It always seems to be the goal of an annual staff to produce a better annual than those which have preceded theirs. We have kept this in mind as we constructed this one, and we are sincere in wishing the 1963 Cabin Log Staff the best of luck as they go to work next year intending to surpass ours.

Dr. Lawrence E. McAllister, head of the Department of Physics at Berry College, was named to be a representative to the Seminar for Superior College Teachers which is sponsored annually by the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education.

The seminar held April 16-18, 1962, in Louisville, Kentucky, was devoted to the exchange of ideas concerning teaching practices on the college level.

Dr. McAllister was among some 25 superior college teachers chosen from throughout the Southeastern United States to attend the seminar.

A native of Ohio, Dr. McAllister received his A. B. degree in mathematics from Oberlin College in 1916, and his Ph. D. in physics from the University of Chicago in 1922.

Dr. McAllister, who is familiar to everyone on the campus as "Dr. Mac," came to Berry College in September, 1932, and has headed the physics department since that time.

... Celebrated Visitors

Berry College was fortunate in having several visitors of distinction to its campus this year. Two of the most well-known are pictured on this page.

Senator Barry Goldwater, Republican from Arizona, spoke to the student body in a joint chapel on November 18, 1961. He received a warm, democratic welcome during his stay on our campus. The senator proved himself to be an interesting and capable speaker during his talk to the student body.

We were equally honored to have as another guest this year, Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, whose books and newspaper commentaries are known throughout the United States. Dr. Peale is the author of such best-selling books as How to Win Friends and Influence People, and The Power of Positive Thinking.

The speaker at the joint assembly prior to the Y-Reception was Mr. Eugene Patterson, the editor of the Atlanta Constitution. His speech will be long remembered for his vivid verbal account of the blast-off of a Cape Canaveral rocket with all the necessary sound effects and illustrations provided.

Y-Reception

The "Y" reception is an annual event occurring soon after the beginning of each new academic year. This gathering of the students and faculty provides an afternoon of fun and refreshments and an opportunity for meeting new friends.

Upperclassmen and Freshmen get acquainted at Y-Reception.

As always, the food provides the most enjoyable part of the afternoon.

This cordial host and hostess make everyone feel at home immediately.

Reception At President's Home

Each year, Dr. and Mrs. Bertrand welcome students to a Sunday-afternoon reception held in their beautiful colonial home located just off the Martha Berry Highway, across from the Berry College Campus.

The refreshments are fine, too; right, Linton?

Well, what do you ladies think of the house?

Mountain

Mountain Day is an annual campus holiday celebrating the birthday of the founder of Berry College. The day begins with joint assembly in the Mt. Berry Chapel. Afterward, everyone goes up to the high school campus for lunch. The highlights of the afternoon include the Grand March and the annual Georgian-Syrrebb football game. The day ends with an alumni-sponsored dance in the Ford Gymnasium.

Many people are present, and . . .

Religious Emphasis Week

The Religious Education Club assisted in conducting the services held in the Mount Berry Chapel during Religious Emphasis Week. Students directed the devotional period and presented special music and accounts of personal experiences. The week's series of inspiring sermons was given by a very interesting person, Dr. Thomas Smith, who is the director of ministerial recruitment for the Methodist Church. Dr. Smith was formerly the chaplain at Young Harris College.

Never was one seen without the other during the week.

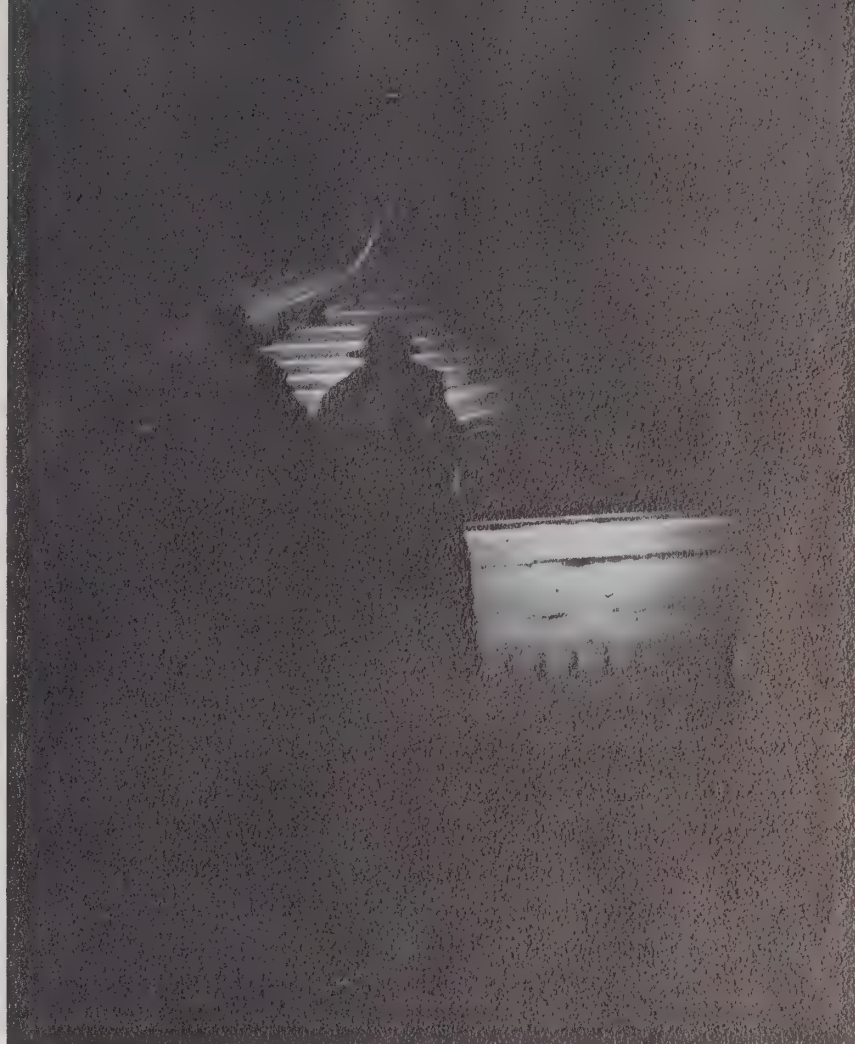

Dr. Smith was a dynamic speaker.

Each night a different student or group of students provided special music.

Disaster Strikes

One of the older buildings on the campus, the Administration Building, was partially ravaged by fire on the night of February 3, 1962. The CABIN LOG photographer happened along during the melee, and managed to record some of what was going on in pictures. The scenes on this page depict an outline of what happened that night.

The opening of the student center two years ago was the greatest boon to student life and activity that could have happened at the time. Since its introduction, it has become the regular meeting place for students during their off-hours. Here, they may enjoy dancing, ping pong, games, watching T. V., or just being with other students. The center also offers itself as a meeting place for clubs on campus. In addition, the center may be reserved, when it is not otherwise open, by groups for closed parties.

The student body seems to be in complete accord in proclaiming Mr. Thomas to be the most appropriate man for the job he holds. On these two pages we want to pay tribute to what we consider a very worthwhile function on our campus.

Dear Miriam,

Can you imagine that we have almost succeeded through three years of Berry. It

THE NATIONAL CITY BANK OF ROME

really has been a wonderful three years getting to be associated with nice friends like you. I Complete Banking Service have really enjoyed knowing you Miriam, and sharing in many laughs and discussions with you and your "gang". I know that we may zip every one in a while about getting out of school, but I know that I shall always cherish all of the fond memories of our many happy "good ole college days".

Editor's Page

It feels so good to be nearing the end of watching and helping this yearbook take shape. There is more time-consuming work involved in putting an annual together than I would ever have expected before this year. I am certain that many of the staff members will agree with me on this point.

I feel that I must recognize publicly the work done by some of the staff who pitched in and did more than their rightful share without any promise of monetary compensation for their efforts. I am referring specifically to such people as Edison Allen, Duanne Self, Dorsey Watson, and David Johnson. These people made me realize fully the meaning of "hard workers." Ed can only be repaid for hours and hours of work done by the satisfaction of seeing his photography all throughout this annual. Duanne was the greatest help in the world in planning and carrying out plans for the MISS BERRY COLLEGE contest. I watched Dorsey as he worked many early morning hours on his section, always with the most optimistic attitude one can possess. I sincerely believe that no one could have done a better job as business manager than David; many thanks to his responsible and thorough manner of doing his business work for the annual. I wanted to mention the names of these people because they represent to me the hardest group of workers I have ever known.

I want to thank Mr. Way for being our adviser this year. In addition, I want to express my appreciation for the help and planning done by Mrs. Helen Morgan of Foote & Davies Publishing Company. I give a special thanks to Dr. "Mac" for his understanding displayed in regard to Ed's and my need to let class work run slack during periods of extensive work on the annual.

On a more personal note, I wish to say that the last four years have been the happiest years of my life. The friendships and enjoyable experiences I have known here could not have occurred at any other place in any greater degree. I am proud that I had the good fortune to come here for my education. Having said this, I will close with the wish that each student here will fully appreciate the value of the life and education he is receiving at Berry College.

Malcolm McDonald, "Mac"
